BONALDO

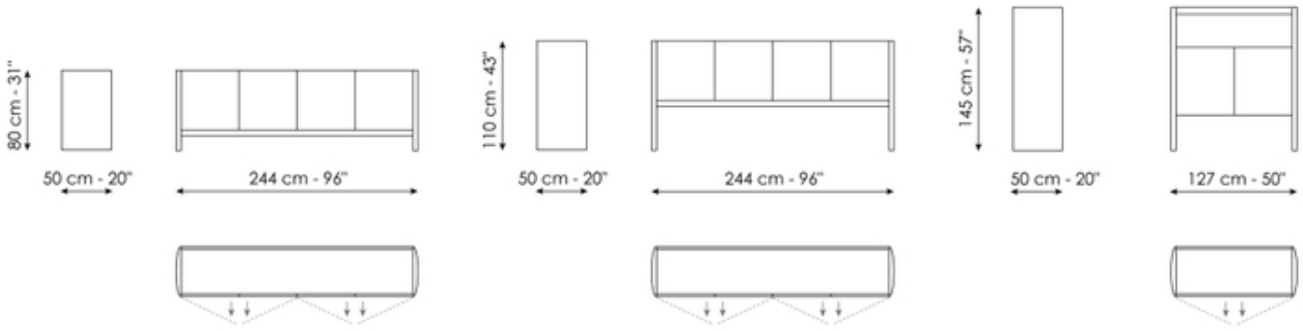

Alicanto

Designer: Gabriele & Oscar Buratti

The Alicanto oak sideboards are available in two versions: a horizontal version with four doors and a vertical version with two doors and an open upper unit, designed to be used individually or combined in coordinated compositions.
The different heights define distinct proportions and characters: in the horizontal version (available in two heights, Alicanto and Alicanto midi), the volume develops in a more compact way, while in the Alicanto high version the open upper unit emphasises verticality and lightens the overall perception. An elegant and discreet detail, the result of a precise design choice, is represented by the side panels with a lenticular section, which extend down to the floor to form the base of the piece.
The structure of Alicanto is made of brown oak or charcoal oak. The top can be in wood, for a monomaterial finish, or in ceramic, introducing a refined contrast between materials.
