BONALDO

Artemis

Artemis is a chair defined by a continuous and natural line, generating a harmonious and welcoming form.
The design originates from the idea of movement. A curving line runs through the chair without interruption, guiding the development of its form; the soft surfaces and compact volume, together with the precision of the design and the balance of proportions, reinforce a sense of continuity.
Featuring comfortable padding in both the backrest and the seat, and fully upholstered in fabric, the chair offers a high level of comfort, making it suitable for both dining areas and prolonged use.
