Mask too

Mask too is the stool that completes the Mask collection, translating its distinctive design language into a compact and versatile form. Mask too stands out for its open backrest, where the interplay between solid and void becomes a defining feature of the design.
The concept behind Mask too is inspired by the idea of a mask: revealing and concealing at the same time. The empty space in the backrest is not merely a structural element, but an expressive detail that enhances the stool's airy, contemporary character. A refined balance between presence and absence gives Mask too a visual lightness while maintaining a strong identity. These elements make it possible for Mask Too to fit naturally into kitchen islands and dining areas, as well as contract and hospitality spaces.
