BONALDO

Rigoletto

Designer: Paolo Grasselli

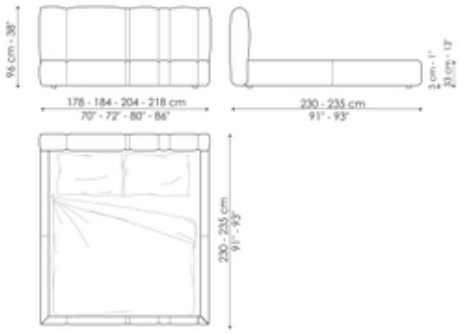

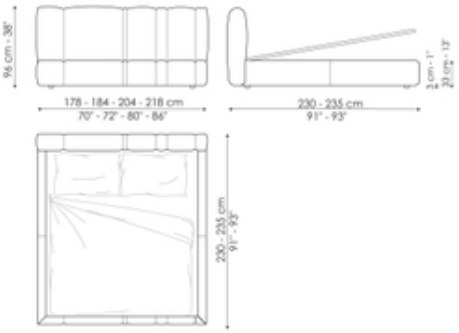

Rigoletto emerged from the idea of making the image of the upholstered bed captivating and innovative, without sacrificing its traditional formal cleanliness. The headboard queen bed features a series of vertical sections of various widths which convey the illusion of a surface that ideally tends towards infinity at the sides. This subtle geometric suggestion is obtained through the sequence of vertical finishing elements which are sewn using a particular binding and quilting technique. The upholstery of the modern bed frame (available also with with storage), available in fabric or leather, is completely removable.
